

OUR GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

HOW THE LIGHT OF THE SUN WARMS AND BRIGHTENS THE WORLD.Its Glorious Effect Away Out in the Queen's Domain.*France (N. Y.) Standard.—The Sun is a business success and a first-class newspaper.*French (N. Y.) Standard—Thanks for the facsimile of the Sun printed fifty years ago.*New Orleans (N. Y.) Chronicle.—The Sun is one of the best papers printed on this continent.*Waking that Calmness.—The Sun to-day is one of the most industrial and prosperous newspapers in the world.*London (England) Chronicle.—The Sun has made wonderful facilities. It is by far the most readable newspaper on the continent.*London (England) Daily News.—The present Sun is one of the best conducted newspapers in America. It was 50 years old on the 31st inst.*Bonaparte (Paris) Free Press.—The Sun represented the first step in the alphabet of progress. It stands high in the list of modern literature.*Montreal (Quebec) Standard.—The Sun is the most widely circulated paper on this continent. It is written in a man of exceptional attainments.*Houston (Texas) Advocate.—The Sun is one of the most fearless outspoken papers in the United States, especially in politics.*Baltimore (Md.) Evening Star.—One of the best papers published in America, and deserves the greatest success it has achieved under the management of Mr. Dana.*Boston (Mass.) Standard.—The Sun is the most popular daily newspaper and is now more widely circulated than ever before. Its editorials are written in very pure English.*Boston (Mass.) Telegraph Herald.—We heartily wish success to the brightening of the New York sunshines, and trust this will pass long to come to the centennial number of the Sun.*Binghamton (N. Y.) Consulter.—Since its first birthday the Sun has made grand strides, and it is now the most powerfully circulated, and one of the most popular newspapers in America.*Montgomery (Ala.) Star.—The Sun now stands at the head of the long list of dailies, with a circulation greater than any other paper. It is edited with marked ability and its news department is far superior to any other American paper.*On the Golden Bands of the Pacific.*Panama (Colombia) Drift.—The Sun is known as one of the best dailies of New York.*San Fran. (Calif.) Standard.—The Sun aside from its popularity is the best paper in the world.*Phoenix (Arizona) Courier.—The Sun of to-day is much larger than the Sun of fifty years ago, and it shines for many more people.*Chicago (Ill.) Tribune.—The Sun stands in the front rank of the great newspaper world. Its power is greatly felt in moulding public opinion.*Seattle (Wash.) Post.—The Sun is now regarded as one of the chief newspapers in the world, with a terrible position for making and unmaking Presidents.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—As an example of journalism fifty years ago the supplement is certainly unique, while contrasted with the splendidly perfect number of the Sun of to-day to which it forms an adjunct it is a splendid specimen of the history of American newspapering for the last half century.*In the Great Gulf States.*Tampa (Fla.) Tribune.—The Sun is a marvel of compass, tenacity and sense.*Orlando (Fla.) Leader.—The Sun will no doubt continue to shine as long as the other sun, the original Old Sol.*Galveston (Texas) Times.—The contrast between the Sun of fifty years ago and the Sun of to-day is truly astonishing.*Fort Worth (Tex.) Journal.—It may be safely said that the Sun has reached the limit of journalistic success in this country.*Pensacola (Fla.) Standard.—The Sun is one of the leading dailies in the United States and deserves no less than it should.*St. Charles (Mo.) Republican.—The age of*Times.—The most remarkable newspaper of the present time can look back to it.*Savannah (Ga.) Journal.—The Sun has become one of the most widely read, ably edited and wealthy journals of this country of great journals.*Gulfport (Miss.) Daily News.—The Sun lives up to its high prospects to lay before the public at a price within the means of all. It is a paper which will make a strong and commanding impression on the public mind.*Memphis (Tenn.) Standard.—Fifty years ago the Sun's circulation was 300; to-day it is 100,000. Our dear, nearly, the world overcomes, and one day, at least, moves with it.*Montgomery (Alabama) Standard.—These might really envy the power and influence of Charles A. Dana, the great editor of the greatest newspaper enterprises in America.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—Fifty years ago the Sun's principal object was to advertise the job-printing office of its proprietor. Now its principal object is to furnish the most readable paper in America.*Gulfport (Miss.) Herald.—The Sun was the pioneer journal of the low-priced press. It now penetrates every part of the United States and Europe, and continues interesting intelligence in smaller space than any paper in the world.*Gainesville (Ga.) Independent.—From this insignificant little luminary has grown, through various mutations, the now great literary lamp of the country, which has secured so many rascals of the last century, and their advertising of it, the chief light-dimension of the Sun.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has done more toward advancing racial corruption than any other paper in the United States. It seems of the few independent papers whose political course has been marked by consistency, honesty, and a fearless criticism of men and measures, whether from Democratic or Republican sides.*Opinions of Religious Newspapers.*Christian Monitor, Portland, Me.—The present circulation of the Sun is about 150,000 copies daily.*Old Bostonian (Boston, Mass.)—The Sun is now one of the best papers published in the English language.*Archbishop (N. Y.)—The Sun attained its fiftieth birthday this week. We add our congratulations to its host of friends on the happy event.*American (N. Y.) Standard.—The Sun is a journal in which the people read.*St. Louis (Mo.) Standard.—The Sun is the leading, most influential and best newspaper in America.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun is the leading newspaper of the country, and the circulation is larger than at any previous time in its history.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—May the Sun's golden rays be cast in all the walks of life, and in prosperity may it reach its centennial year, ever growing, ever shining more and more.*Standard of the Coast, Cleveland, Ohio.—The Sun's population is increasing rapidly, and its circulation is up 200,000 in two years. In daily issues now averages 100,000.*Washington (D. C.) Post.—The Sun was the first newspaper to adopt the newsboy system, and Warner, the comedian, was the first newboy who ever sold it.*Catholic (Newark, N. J.) Herald.—The Sun was issued in Newark in 1842. It shows what struggles a paper must go through to reach success.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has attained four millions of three columns each day. From it we learn that Capt. Vanderbilt can steamship Waterwitch to Hartford, and that John Jacob Astor was one of the directors of the Globe Insurance Company.*Away Down East.*Green (N. Y.) Record.—The Sun has had a wonderful anniversary.*Montgomery (Ala.) Enterprise.—The Sun's great idea is to interest the reader.*St. Louis (Mo.) Post-Advertiser.—The Sun is the leading newspaper in this country.*St. Louis (Mo.) Commercial.—In many respects the Sun is now the model newspaper of the age.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun is the leading, most influential, and best newspaper in America.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has the largest circulation in the United States.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has a circulation of nearly 100,000.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun occupies a first position among the newspapers of America, and its popularity seems to be increasing.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun is the most successful and with the exception, the most valuable newspaper in the United States.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun is a journal in which the people read.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has a circulation of 100,000.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has made the 50th anniversary of its existence by producing a fair sample of the first number.*Fair Haven (Conn.) Herald.—The Sun occupies a first position among the newspapers of America, and its popularity seems to be increasing.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun is the most successful and with the exception, the most valuable newspaper in the United States.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun is a journal in which the people read.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has a circulation of 100,000.*Montgomery (Ala.) Standard.—The Sun has a circulation of 100,000.